CSA President Ernest Logan Commends Mayor Bloomberg and Chancellor Walcott for Securing Funds for the January Regents

“CSA commends the donors who have come together with Mayor Bloomberg and Chancellor Walcott to provide the vital funding that will allow New York City public school students to take the January 2012 State Regents Exams – exams that provide our students with an opportunity to graduate early or re-take exams they failed in the past. Nevertheless, we’ve come to a sad state of affairs in New York State when we have to raise private funds to support public education. We urge the legislature to work with the Governor to find a long-term solution to this serious problem and put our children first.”
